

were killed in the violence in only 100 days.

Paul Rusesabagina did not stand by and watch as his countrymen were murdered. As a well-connected Hutu, Rusesabagina was spared persecution. However, his wife, a Tutsi, and his children were not safe. He moved them from his home to the Hotel des Mille Collines where he believed they would be safer. As the violence intensified, he opened the hotel to hundreds of other Rwandans, Hutu and Tutsi alike, who were seeking to escape the violence outside. In the following months, there were numerous attempts to force those at the hotel out into the streets of Kigali. Each time, Rusesabagina used his international connections through the hotel or with the Rwandan military in combination with keen negotiation skills to spare the lives of those he was caring for. Amazingly, no one who took shelter inside the hotel was killed in the violence. In all, Paul Rusesabagina and the Hotel des Mille Collines protected the lives of more than 1,200 people during the genocide.

Prior to the award ceremony last Tuesday, Paul Rusesabagina was reunited with one of the many who took shelter at the Hotel des Mille Collines. According to reports, Thomas Kamilindi was working as a journalist in Kigali when violence broke out in 1994. Kamilindi, his pregnant wife and young daughter stayed at the hotel for a month and a half until they were evacuated. Kamilindi credits Paul Rusesabagina with saving his life and the lives of his family. The meeting last Tuesday was the first since Kamilindi and his family were evacuated more than 10 years ago. Following their meeting, Kamilindi said, "It was very emotional for him and for me. I am still alive because Paul was there." Kamilindi is currently a Knight-Wallace Journalism Fellow at the University of Michigan where he is studying representations of violence in the media.

Paul Rusesabagina's courageous actions closely resemble those of Raoul Wallenberg 50 years before. Both men stood in the face of great adversity to protect those who were not able to protect themselves. Like Wallenberg, Rusesabagina provided a shelter of last resort to innocent civilians facing persecution, many of whom he did not know personally prior to the violence. In addition, both men fought off potential violence not by meeting force with force, but by using persuasion, influence, and negotiation instead.

I thank the University of Michigan for adding to the legacy of Raoul Wallenberg by recognizing the contributions of other great humanitarians like Paul Rusesabagina. I know my colleagues will join me in congratulating Paul Rusesabagina on this great honor.

CONGRATULATING HAWAII'S NATIONAL SOCCER CHAMPIONS

• Mr. AKAKA. Mr. President, I rise to congratulate our National Championship soccer team from Hawaii, the Honolulu Bulls Soccer Club ('88 Girls) team which won the U17-Girls U.S. Club National Cup in Stony Brook, NY, on August 8, 2005. In an exciting final match, the Bulls defeated the Boston Renegades, 1-0 at the Stony Brook Soccer Complex.

The Bulls advanced to the national championship tournament by winning a regional tournament in Las Vegas earlier this year. At the national tournament, the Bulls earned a spot in the championship game by going undefeated in pool play, beating teams from Georgia and Pennsylvania and tying with a team from California.

In the final match, the Bulls' precision game denied the opposing Boston team any serious scoring opportunities. Katrina Chong's goal in the first half off an assist by Alana Wall would be the game's only score.

The Honolulu Bulls Soccer Club ('88 Girls) team members are: Lucy Caires, CiAnna Chun-Ming, Kelsi Chan, Katrina Chong, Devin Council, Caycie Gusman, Allison Haines, Jaymie Honold, Ashley Kanda, Lauren Kanda, Sophia Merrifield, Marisa Schoen, Carly Wachi, Alana Wall, Lindsey Watanabe, Jordan Weeks, Jenna Wong, Kiani Wong, and Marie Yempuku. LEVI LEIPHEIMER APPRECIATION DAY

• Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I rise today to honor an outstanding Montanan. Today in the city of Butte, MT, citizens are taking to the streets in honor of Levi Leipheimer. In fact, October 20 is officially Levi Leipheimer Appreciation Day in Montana.

To say that Levi Leipheimer is a competitive cyclist is an understatement. Levi is an established leader in the world of cycling. Under his belt, he has three top ten finishes in the world's biggest cycling race, the Tour de France. This year, he placed sixth in the Tour, and also won the Tour de Germany. This is an incredible accomplishment. I am proud that Levi grew up riding on the hills of Montana.

Today, Levi is returning to Butte for the first time in roughly 4 years. The people of Butte are honoring him with a bike parade and street festival.

Levi is an inspiration to the next generation of Montanans, and today by riding alongside in the streets of Butte, he will show them that through dedication and hard work, anything is possible.

I am very proud of Levi Leipheimer and all that he has achieved. He has made both myself and the State of Montana very proud. We look forward to watching him compete in the years to come.●

HONORING MARY BOURDETTE

• Mrs. CLINTON. Mr. President, I am delighted today to honor Mary Bourdette, a woman who has dedicated her working life to improving the lives of disadvantaged children and families.

Over the past three decades, Mary has served as a tireless and extremely effective advocate for our Nation's most vulnerable children. Our country is in her debt, and for her passion, commitment, service, and good humor, she will be dearly missed when she retires.
